About Conference:

Nursing Profession requires lifetime learning. It is not to be forgotten that it is our duty to compete and adjust with the rapidly changing health care delivery system. There are continuous advancements in education, medicine, technology and research. Through research findings we, nursing professionals are aware of the various nursing care and their up gradation. By knowing these findings we can update nursing care and uplift our profession through evidence nursing practices. Keeping in mind all these factors, we must understand the importance of learning. The learning becomes easier by attending nursing conferences, seminars and workshops etc.

Theme: Translating Evidence to improve nursing care in the clinical.

Knowledge translation is the process through which knowledge is created, circulated and adopted into clinical practice. It is defined as a dynamic process that includes synthesis, dissemination and ethically sound application of knowledge. It provides more effective health services and strengthen the health care s delivery system. This process takes place within a complex system of interactions between researchers and knowledge users which may vary in intensity, complexity and level of engagement depending on the nature of the research and the findings as well as the needs of the particular knowledge user.

Learning Objectives:

- To revisit key elements of patient care, updating them in the context of today's healthcare requirement.
- To provide a mechanism for quality improvement initiatives based on evidence-informed nursing practices into patient care.
- To foster patient oriented research with the long term aim of improving facilities.
- To learn best nursing practices that validate, appreciate, and recognize as the essence of nursing.
